Business Crime & Financial Services

Angus has substantial experience prosecuting and defending cases of serious fraud and corruption as well as offences under the Companies Act. He is often briefed to deal with offences under POCA and also with the Act's confiscation regime including pre-charge restraint.

He has been instructed as independent Counsel by the FCA, appeared in the Tax Tribunal in 'MTIC' cases and has delivered papers to solicitors on POCA and related topics. He was recently part of a panel of international lawyers speaking on global anti-bribery and corruption at the 2015 AJIA conference in London.

Cases

R v David Mills & Others (Operation Hornet)

First junior to Brian O'Neill QC. Allegations of serious and long running corruption between senior managers of HBOS and leading figures of the UK business community.

R v Barsso & 8 Others

First junior to Brian O'Neill QC. Allegations of market rigging and hidden referral fees within the insurance industry.

Acted in the CA (as junior to a Chancery Silk) for the respondent, successfully opposing a private prosecutor's appeal against a refusal to grant a restraint order in the Crown Court.

Criminal Defence

As a junior alone, Angus has successfully defended individuals charged with murder, rape and other serious sexual offences where a robust but jury-friendly approach is required. He has also appeared as a led junior working with Silks in Chambers and outside.

Cases

R V Scott Hunt & 5 Others (junior alone)

Murder case involving the dismemberment and burial of the deceased and a subsequent conspiracy to pervert the course of justice. Angus' client was acquitted by the jury on one count and the Judge acceded to a submission of no case on a second.

R V Vitautas Jokubauskas

Led by David Howker QC in a murder case involving the brutal killing and dismemberment of the deceased and the subsequent disposal of body parts around Peterborough.

R V Peter Barnett

Dubbed 'one of Britain's biggest fare evaders', Angus successfully argued at a Newton hearing that his client should be sentenced on a much reduced loss figure, thus ensuring that immediate imprisonment was avoided.

Private Prosecution

Angus' very considerable experience of prosecuting for the CPS and other agencies (CPS Grade 4, fraud and serious crime panels, HSE / EA specialist regulatory advocate, etc.) equips him to deal with the particular demands of commencing and successfully pursuing a private prosecution.

He is familiar with advising on the merits of bringing a case, how to commence such proceedings, including drafting appropriate charges and settling the indictment, and providing a strategy to ensure that issues such as disclosure, restraint and confiscation and costs are dealt with comprehensively.

Cases

Re ASM

He was recently instructed on behalf of a Saudi-based company to advise on and prosecute two UK resident individuals accused of serious fraud in relation to the misappropriation of company funds.

Re MH

Acted in proceedings relating to fraudulent property transactions which involved the application for pre-trial restraint orders by a private prosecutor.

Public Prosecution

Angus is a CPS level 4 prosecutor and a member of the CPS HQ Fraud and Serious Crime panels, both also at level 4. He is now instructed as leading counsel in high-profile, sensitive and often multi-handed trials where specialist knowledge is required.

He has particular experience in dealing with cases of human trafficking and people smuggling, large-scale drug conspiracies, cases of corruption and misconduct in public office and unlawful medicines cases investigated by the MHRA.

Cases

R v Mysliwiec & Piatkowska

Led for the Crown in a case of blackmail, false imprisonment and armed robbery committed by a Polish businessman against accountants in London. The case was investigated by the Flying Squad and included a conspiracy to pervert the course of justice organised by the first defendant's wife.

R v Harvinder Sanghera & 8 Others

Led for the Crown in a series of trials concerning the importation of very large quantities of Cocaine and ammunition into Heathrow airport via BA cargo flights from Mexico.

Criminal Regulatory

Angus is a member of the panel of Specialist Regulatory Advocates in Health and Safety and Environmental Law, maintained by the HSE.

He was instructed as junior Counsel by the Environment Agency in the largest illegal waste deposit case then prosecuted by the Agency (R v O'Donnell & Others). Since then, he has successfully represented corporate clients, including a major waste firm charged with breaching environmental permits, and was instructed at first instance in R v Thames Water Utilities Ltd [2015]. He is particularly interested in the application of the confiscation regime to environmental offences and has delivered papers on the topic to solicitors.
